

Grand Central Station, New York City

7th on Sixth a Division of IMG World Wide Inc. is attempting to bring the New York Fashion Week to the general public. Grand Central Station was studied as a potential venue due to the high volume of public occupancy.

A Form Architecture pc designed the layout to include a 336 seat venue and exhibit space with retail, while keeping public access open to the main terminal.

